

The logo consists of the numbers '3' and '6' in a bold, sans-serif font, separated by a vertical bar.

bottles

TESTIMONIAL FOR VERB LIMITED

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

We knew what we wanted – a website that would convey our ideals, ethic and values; and be the place that would act as our shop window to the world. A bit of a tall order from a company in the wine industry, but Verb definitely got our party rocking.

We needed the whole nine yards, attractive pages about us, ability to blog, the ability to easily manage and update our site with new products, manage our (hopefully) exponentially growing client list, meet our legal requirements (are you over 18?) and most importantly provide a cool and inviting buying experience.

Hamish, Graham and the rest of the team at Verb were great to work with. They got on board with us and the conceptual team at our design partners, Neogine. Verb quickly understood what the goal was, and were endlessly patient and supportive. We knew just enough to be dangerous, but they handled it well. We've got an outstanding web site and we hope Verb got a couple of cool ideas off us!

And finally we can't say enough about how supportive Verb (Graham – this means you!) have been as we launched and got into the BAU (Business as Usual) part of the relationship.

A handwritten signature in blue ink, appearing to read 'Douglas Brett'.

Douglas Brett,

Director (Vine Whisperer);

Mt Aspiring Wines Limited (proud owners of the 36 bottles brand and web site)